

IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

In re Application of:
Donald L. Payne
For: CABINET DOOR WITH
CHANGEABLE DECORATIVE PANEL

BEST AVAILABLE COPY

Application number: 10/763,879

Filed: 01/23/2004

Docket no: Payne

GAU: 3637

Examiner: Tran, Hanh Van

In re Application of

Donald L. Payne

RESPONSE UNDER 37 CFR 1.111

For: CABINET DOOR WITH

Applicant has carefully reviewed the Office Action mailed 10/11/2005,

Application number: 10/763,879

and responds as follows:

Docket no: Payne

GAU: 3637

Examiner: Tran, Hanh Van

CLAIM OBJECTIONS

In re Application of

Donald L. Payne

For: CABINET DOOR WITH

The objections to claims 9 - 11 is rendered moot as claims 9 - 11 are cancelled with this amendment.

Application number: 10/763,879

Docket no: Payne

GAU: 3637

Examiner: Tran, Hanh Van

CLAIM REJECTIONS UNDER 35 USC 102

Claims 1 - 3 and 8 - 11 are rejected over the reference to Fridolph, which teaches room dividers wherein a molding strip 20 having a T-shaped groove extends across inner edges at the top and bottom of panels of the room divider. Fastener members generally conforming to the cross-section of the Tshaped groove are clipped to the center fabric panel. With this construction, the upper and lower molding strips may be removed and the fastener members may be slid out of the molding strips so that the fabric panel may be laundered. The reference to Fridolph is silent as to side edges of the fabric